

Member Spotlight

Condition: Teen Anxiety

Health concern

Meghan's 16 year old daughter, Grace, was recently diagnosed with anxiety. Meghan reached out to Summus for assistance identifying a provider who could support her daughter.

Member impact

Summus quickly connected Meghan with Dr. Rosamaria Alamo, Summus Clinical Advisor and Clinical Associate Professor of Social Work at the University of Southern California. Dr. Alamo listened to Meghan's concerns and collected care preferences for Grace. Within a week, Summus prepared a personalized list of providers who had expertise in Grace's condition, offered virtual and in-person appointments, and were covered by insurance. After the consultation with Dr. Alamo, Meghan shared that the list of providers saved her 10 hours of independent research.

Summus is one of the most valuable benefits I have had at any job. I recommend it to colleagues all the time. Everyone I have interacted with at Summus is kind, friendly, helpful, and professional. I have saved countless hours using Summus. I am so grateful that Summus exists!